

Asks All Nations to Try to Avert War in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Liberia proposed today that the leaders of all political groups in the Congo meet with the U.N. Security Council and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in an effort to avert a threatened civil war.

Liberian Ambassador George Padmore, one of the two African members of the 11-nation council, laid before the council a suggestion made earlier in the week by Liberian President William Tubman. He proposed that the peace parley be held either at U.N. headquarters, in the Congo or in a neighboring country.

Padmore spoke as his delegation continued working behind the scenes with representatives of the United Arab Republic and Ceylon, the other African and Asian members of the council, on a peace plan which they hoped might win the support of the Soviet Union and the United States.

A flurry of diplomatic activity raised cautious hopes of averting a direct East-West clash in the African republic stemming from the slaying of Patrice Lumumba, a three African-Asian members of the 11-nation council—neutralist Ceylon, pro-Western Liberia and the left-leaning United Arab Republic—were expected to put forward today a compromise resolution backed by 18 other countries.

Basically, the emergency section of the proposed resolution—1. Urged U. N. troops in the Congo to use force if necessary to prevent civil war;

2. Demanded Belgian and other non-U. N. foreign military personnel, mercenaries and political advisers leave the Congo immediately;

3. Called on all countries to prevent such personnel from going there; and

4. Called for an immediate and impartial investigation into Lumumba's death.

Some supporters of the African-Asian plan were counting on a united front of the nations from the two continents to bring the big powers into line. Other diplomats feared the Soviet Union would remain adamant in its opposition to U. N. action and veto the resolution.

From the Congo came a report that Congo President Joseph Kasavubu's new premier, Joseph Ileo, has begun negotiating with rival political leaders to broaden his new Leopoldville government into a coalition.

The 11-nation U.N. Conciliation Commission sent to the Congo by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld before Lumumba's death also submitted recommendations echoing the Asian-African draft resolution.

A long-range section urged that the Congolese Parliament — suspended last September after President Kasavubu fired Patrice Lumumba as premier — be convened immediately and that all Congolese armed units be reorganized and brought under discipline and control to keep them from interfering in politics.

The resolution in preliminary form came much closer to ideas put forward by Hammarskjöld and the United States than a Soviet resolution already before the council demanding the dismissal of the secretary-general and an end to the U.N. Congo operation within a month.

Rabies Quarantine in Two Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Health Department says rabies quarantines in Randolph and Independence counties will last at least 30 days, and possibly longer.

Dr. Harvie R. Ellis, department veterinarian, said six cases of rabies in animals were reported in each county last month and one Randolph County woman had to take anti-rabies shots after she was bitten by a cat.

All dogs in the two counties must be kept penned up or muzzled or be vaccinated against rabies.

Ripley County, Mo., which borders Randolph County, also is quarantined.

The Rockefeller farm was the day's top buyer, spending $10,000.

Bill to Enlarge Stadium Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill to enlarge the size of the War Memorial Stadium Commission from nine to 15 members was introduced in the Senate yesterday.

All 15 members would serve for two years simultaneously with the governor's term.

Described as a measure to expedite the refunding of interest-bearing stadium bonds and sale of more bonds for improvements, the bill was prepared by William J. Smith, Gov. Orval E. Faubus' legislative aide. It was introduced by Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison.

Faubus said the enlarged commission would be in a better position to contact holders of existing 2 1/2 per cent interest stadium bonds and encourage them to trade for non-interest bearing bonds.

Power Struggle Underway in Congo Crisis

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Rebel chief Antoine Gizenga has ousted his leader in the terrorized province of Kivu in a struggle for power, reports reaching Leopoldville said today.

Antoine Kashamura, considered the No. 2 man of the pro-Communist rebels, was beaten and arrested Thursday in the Kivu provincial capital of Bukavu, said refugees reaching neighboring Rwanda-Urundi.

The refugee reports, confirmed by U.N. headquarters, said anarchy reigns in Kivu, with Congolese on the rampage venting their wrath on whites. A Belgian Catholic priest was beheaded by rioters, U.N. headquarters was told, and some nuns' reported molested.

Kashamura was believed to be a potential challenger to Communist-trained Gizenga as successor to slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

An explanation for this dismissal could be that he had recently softened his dictatorship in Kivu. While he decreed three days of mourning for Lumumba, he asked the population not to give way to angry revenge.

He was reported by refugees as saying Thursday he planned to leave because he felt insecure. He was also quoted as saying he declined any responsibility for the lives of Europeans who remained.

Shortly thereafter, he was arrested, beaten and taken off north toward Stanleyville, refugees said. Christophe Benya, interior minister of Gizenga's government took over as leader of Kivu Province, these accounts added.

Violence against whites erupted with the turnover of power. Some rebel soldiers and members of the nationalist youth movement caught Father Renat Devos, a Belgian priest, beat him, cut off his ears, and beheaded him.

A telephoned report from U.N. headquarters in Bukavu said other priests and some nuns were beaten and taken prisoner. Other nuns and European social workers took refuge in a convent under the protection of Congolese soldiers who did not join the rioters.

The rioters later entered a convent, molested some of the nuns and tried to loot and set the buildings on fire.

U.N. sources said Stanleyville itself was calm.

Golden Agers Appeal for Local Help

In the regular bi-monthly meeting on Feb. 16 the Golden Age Club had 23 present, including Mrs. W. N. Stanley of Shawnee, Okla., a guest of Mrs. C. B. Cearley.

The group was served coffee and cake by the refreshment committee and enjoyed games and activity.

Male members of the club have been meeting weekly at the Youth Center for checkers and dominoes in addition to the regular meetings and invite more attendance.

The group issued an appeal to children of prospective members to aid in transporting these folks to further increase attendance and allow the older people to take part in the club functions. Those interested should contact Eugene Cox, Mrs. Paul Cobb, Lon Coats or Mrs. J. B. Cearley.

The club expressed deep sympathy to Mrs. Cearley on the death of her late husband, one of the club's most active members.

A Substitute Retirement Bill Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Joint Legislative Budget Committee, apparently anticipating passage of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' Teacher Retirement bill, today introduced a substitute appropriation for the Education Department, adding $3,015,000 to the state educational aid fund.

The total appropriation under the new bill for this purpose is $43,490,000.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen, an administration floor leader, said the increase in the fund would make possible a $210 salary increase for each teacher.

"We want to get across to these teachers that they can have this money in salary now or take it in retirement benefits later," Van Dalsen said. Faubus is proposing a retirement program under which the state and teachers would make matching contributions of 5 per cent of salary. The Arkansas Education Association is backing a bill to set the state's share at 9.72 per cent.

Van Dalsen said he felt that teachers supporting the AEA bill were not aware that they would get the money saved by the Faubus plan in pay increases.

Faubus will meet Monday with representatives of the AEA side to try to work out a compromise.

A rift in a truce between opposing forces pending the meeting with the governor was healed today when the House suspended its rules and put the Senate version of the AEA bill on its calendar.

Van Dalsen was accused by the AEA side of breaking the truce Thursday when he objected to a routine second reading of the bill and succeeded in stopping it.

When the bill was read the second time today, Cross County Rep. James L. Shaver moved that it be put on the calendar because it is identical to a House bill which has already been through committee.

During debate on the motion, Van Dalsen told the House that he had not been trying to stop the retirement bill but a bill increasing the truck weight limit which was scheduled to be read next.

Both sides agreed to placing the bill on the calendar today.

The truck weight bill ran into trouble again. Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell objected to a second reading and was sustained. The bill now can not be read a second time until Monday and can not be acted on until Wednesday without a suspension of the rules, which requires a two-thirds vote.

Final Rites Today for Rep. Norrell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled in a mortuary a half-block from the White House today for Rep. W. F. Norrell, D-Ark., who died Wednesday night of a stroke.

Another service will be held at 3 p.m. Monday in Norrell's home town of Monticello, Ark., where the veteran lawmaker got his start in politics 31 years ago.

The House of Representatives spend an hour in eulogy Thursday, then adjourned in memory of Norrell. Many representatives were expected to attend the services today. Flags flew at half mast on government buildings.

The Arkansas Legislature is expected to adjourn next Monday for the Monticello services. Gov. Orval E. Faubus is an honorary pallbearer.

House members eulogized Norrell as a gentle man, devoted to the service of his constituents. All Arkansas representatives except Rep. Dale Alford, who was out of the city, joined a score of other speakers in the eulogies.

In Monticello, where Norrell had lived for 40 years, the flag atop the Drew County courthouse was lowered to half-staff. There were eulogies there, too, including one by Virgil McCloy, Monticello mayor for 34 years and the man Continued on Page Six

Committee Okays Hays Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nomination of former Arkansas Rep. Brooks Hays to be assistant secretary of state for congressional relations has been approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Senate still must confirm the nomination, but this is regarded as routine procedure for such a presidential appointment.

Bill Passed to Tighten Use Tax Exemptions

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent to Gov. Orval E. Faubus another bill to tighten up on exemptions to the use tax, which is in effect a sales tax on purchases made outside the state.

The bill would specify that certain equipment now exempt for use in manufacturing, processing, transportation and the like would be exempted only if equivalent material could not be purchased in Arkansas.

The Senate vote on the House bill was 24-6.

Both the Senate and the House have passed two other bills.

Sen. Robert Hays Williams of Russellville brought the House Bill to a vote and advocated its passage. He said that the Revenue Department had reported Arkansas was now losing tax money under the present system.

Williams said he didn't know whether the bill submitted in the House by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen was an administration measure.

"But if it is an administration measure and we don't pass it and the revenue commissioner should persuade the governor to veto the other bills, we will be in the same situation for the next two years that we are now," Williams said.

Sen. Ellis Fagan, sponsor of the other bills, said that he had planned not to oppose the Van Dalsen bill. But, he said, Van Dalsen at a public hearing Tuesday night criticized his bills and charged that they would cost the state $8 million a year.

Van Dalsen urged the House to pass all bills dealing with sales and use taxes and let Gov. Orval E. Faubus decide which should become law. The House passed the Fagan bills and sent them to Faubus.

After the Senate passed the Van Dalsen bill, Fagan obtained approval of the Senate to have his bills retransmitted to the governor. He had recalled them Thursday because Faubus was ill and he did not want a veto without proper consideration nor the bills to become law without action by Faubus.

Bill Passed to Increase Load Limits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Senate passed bills Thursday that would increase the maximum load limit on big trucks operating in Arkansas and hike license fees on the larger trucks. Both victory margins were narrow.

In another highway action, the Senate Roads and Highways Committee stamped "do pass" recommendations on bills to settle a controversy over the allocation of highway funds.

A compromise, arranged by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, would give cities $750,000 a year more in highway turnbacks. Counties would be assured of getting $100,000 in State Highway Department work on secondary roads in the next two years.

A joint legislative session originally set for Monday in which Faubus will discuss his state institution and college building program has been shifted to 11 a.m. Tuesday.

The rescheduling was asked by Faubus because he plans to attend the funeral of Rep. W. F. Norrell, D-Ark., in Monticello Monday. A house amendment to this effect was quickly adopted and the Senate indicated it would go along.

Unexpected action Thursday by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen broke an uneasy House truce on opposing plans for reorganizing the state Teacher Retirement System.

Jefferson County Rep. G. W. Turner Jr. who commented that "It looks like we fell into a trap," after Van Dalsen objected to a second reading of a Senate teacher retirement bill.

The Senate bill would adopt a plan backed by the Arkansas Education Association which is asking the state to contribute 9.72 per cent of a teacher's salary to the retirement program.

Faubus and his legislative supporters are backing a plan whereby the state's share would be only five per cent.

An objection to a second reading automatically suspends the House rules and allows reading a second time over the objection. The rule suspension was passed by a 30-0 vote but Acting Speaker Virgil T. Fletcher declared the House adjourned because a quorum did not vote.

Among the ill-fated measures were bills to: set financial responsibility for motorists; permit trial of dispossessed suits in chancery as well as circuit courts; revoke hunting license of hunters accidentally wounding other persons and requiring a poll tax receipt to be presented at the polls by the voter.

Injuries Are Fatal to Mrs. Ethel Collier

Mrs. Ethel Collier, aged 54, was killed today in a train-car collision at the Dewey Street Missouri Pacific crossing.

Mrs. Collier, alone in the car, was crossing from north to south. The left side of the car was hit by a west bound Missouri Pacific freight train.

Investigating City Police said the train carried the auto 161 feet before it could stop. R. A. Grubb was the engineer.

Mrs. Collier died from injuries soon after she was taken to a local hospital by an Oucrest ambulance.

She was a longtime resident of Hope. Survivors include her husband, Lloyd Collier and one daughter, Mrs. Linda Kidd of Littlefield, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel. Burial will be in Memory Gardens.

Warns About Safety of Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All patients should be removed from part of the State Hospital's general administration building, architect Julian B. Davidson warned Thursday.

In a letter to the State Hospital Board, Davidson said a crack in the front wall of the building extends from the first through the fourth stories and goes from the outer surface of the wall clear through to the inside plaster.

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, the hospital's board chairman, read the letter to the Senate today and added, "I am looking forward to the governor's message on Tuesday hoping that some plan will be reached to rebuild the hospital."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus is scheduled to unveil a construction program for the hospital and state colleges Tuesday.

Hendrix said the top three floors of the administration building housed about 450 patients, but he did not know how many were in the danger area.

Bill Designed to Defeat Free Ferries

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Desha County Rep. E. E. Hopson was beaten Wednesday in an attempt to defeat a free ferry bill in the Arkansas House.

So Thursday, Hopson introduced a bill to establish 15 more free ferries, including eight on county roads.

Hopson battled valiantly against Arkansas County Rep. Grover C. Carnes' bill to require the state highway department to establish a free ferry on the Arkansas River between Desha and Arkansas counties.

The bill was defeated when it first came to a vote, but it passed on reconsideration, over Hopson's vigorous protests.

Hopson's bill would require the Highway Department to put free ferries at:

The Arkansas River crossing of Highway 1 south of Gillett;
The White River crossing of Highway 3 at Calico Rock;
The Black River crossing of Highway 47 near Tuckerman;
The White River crossing of Highway 57 near Tuckerman.

Accidents in U. S. Take 93,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Ninety-three thousand persons were killed in accidents in the United States last year, more than two-thirds of them in traffic crashes and in the home, the National Safety Council said today.

The number killed was the highest total since 1957 but the death rate was a record low, the council said.

The council estimated the economic loss at $13.4 billion. It covers both fatal and nonfatal accidents, the council said in reporting that more than nine million persons were injured in accidents in 1960. It said 1 of every 19 persons in the nation suffered a disabling injury last year.

Although accidental deaths last year were 1 per cent higher than the 92,000 in 1959, the death rate per 10,000 persons dropped to 51.7, compared to the previous record low of 52.2 in 1959. The council attributed the drop to a 2 per cent increase in population.

Motor vehicle accidents, as in previous years, was the No. 1 killer, with 38,200 deaths, the biggest toll since 1957 and compared to 37,910 in 1959.

Home accidents — poisoning, fires, burns and firearms — ranked second to traffic with 27,500 fatalities, some 600 more than in 1959.

Public accidents not involving motor vehicles took the lives of 16,600 persons, equaling the 1959 toll.

Deaths from work mishaps totaled 13,800, about the same as in 1959. Accidents at work resulted in the loss of 280 million man-days, which the council said was equivalent to an entire year's shutdown of a hypothetical plant employing 1 million workers.

Nervous, Yelling Mother Blames Jawing Husband

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

Here is another of those tired, nervous, yelling mothers who scream and curse at their children!

God has given me two girls — the older just 14, the wee one two and a half, and three boys, 13, 11 and 3 and a half.

I can be a fun mother when no one jaws at me, meaning my husband, a loud-mouthed, drinking, miserly creep who thinks only of himself. I knew about his drinking but not his unholiness before we married. Beer and money are his gods.

I've left him twice in our 24 years of marriage but returned to try it again. Our home remains a hell. My sweet 14-year-old daughter wants to die. Do you think I could become a better-natured person if we separated?

I am 41, my husband 42. —L.A.B.

Dear L.A.B.: If you had no young children, I might agree that a separation was better for all concerned. But, with five youngsters, the eldest of whom is only 14, I doubt the wisdom of such a move. And, in a sense, that is only running away from the problem.

Reading between the lines I would say your life lacks organization. Read my pamphlet on "Better Home Management," which is being sent you by today's mail. Once your household is systematized you will be less tired and find time to be gentle instead of scream at your children. Just because your husband jaws is no excuse for you to do the same. For your own, and the children's sake make a heroic effort to pull yourself together.

For contrast, I print the following letter, which speaks for itself:

Dear Helen:

I read a recent column of yours about girls who have to marry. My husband and I married just before our baby was born. We married, not because of the baby, but because we loved each other. That was three years ago. We are very happy although we don't have much except love, which makes us rich, really.

We say to couples who face the problem we once did, if you don't love each other, don't marry. If you do, time will heal all wounds. —A Very Happy Expectant Mother and Faithful Reader

Dear Helen:

I have been married three years and have a daughter two. Until now I was happy but another man has come into my life. In order to see him I lie to my husband. I am afraid he will find out. But I don't want to stop seeing this man. —Mixed Up

Dear Mixed Up: Where's your pride in self, home, family? Have you no character, no sense of moral obligation to your husband and child?

The most precious thing in life is character. Without it, you are worth nothing. Show some character now. Put that man out of your life in a hurry!

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Better Home Management."

Joint Session to Unveil Building Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A proposed state building program drafted by Gov. Orval E. Faubus apparently will not be unveiled until a joint session of the legislature Monday.

Faubus has declined to discuss details of his plan, though he said he has talked it over with presidents of Arkansas colleges. He was ill today and was not in his office.

The Senate Wednesday adopted a resolution calling for a joint session at 2 p.m. Monday.

The House had not received the resolution for action this morning, but it is expected to approve it.

A bill to set up a $52 million bond issue financed by a soft drink tax, sponsored by the college presidents, failed to get approval. It would have provided for construction at the University of Arkansas, state colleges, children's colony and state hospital.

Faubus revealed that he was working on a construction program after the college presidents' bill was withdrawn.

Old Debts Have Been Satisfied

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two 88-year old debts have been satisfied by the city of Little Rock, Finance Director E. Jack Murphy said today.

Murphy paid off $1 on each of them.

He sent one dollar to the Central National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio, which had asked payment on an 1873 certificate of indebtedness it found while settling an estate.

The other dollar went to Robert E. Williamson of Little Rock, who also had turned up with one of the old notes but had said he didn't expect anything from the city.

The certificates called for a per cent interest. Compound interest at that rate would have made them worth more than $800.

Murphy wrote the Cleveland bank that the city recognized no liability for payment, but sent the dollar "as a gesture of good will and evidence we pay all our debts."

The city actually didn't have to put up the money. It came from

More Rebels Land on Cuban Coast

HAVANA (AP)—More anti-Castro rebels have landed on Cuba's southern coast in Oriente Province, unconfirmed reports said today.

An undetermined number of insurgents landed in the isolated Pilon region where the foothills of the Sierra Maestra Mountains extend down to the sea, these reports said.

The Sierra Maestras long have been a trouble spot for Prime Minister Fidel Castro. From 1,000 to 3,000 rebels reportedly landed in the area recently.

Travelers arriving from Guantanamo City in Oriente related reports that a group of anti-Castro Cubans approached the main gate of the Museum of Natural History, which will add both the old notes to its collection.

Ohio State University says a short pole, a line with or without a bobber and a hook baited with minnows or redworms is all the equipment needed for ice fishing.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Chapter XXIII

Wearily, Jane carried the wheel chair back into the porch and returned it to its place beside the sink. Making her way into the kitchen, she turned on the light and stood for a moment looking down at her begrimed skirt and shoes. For a moment it threatened to come back to her, that terrible moment in the darkness there in the park when she had dragged Edna, Still's body from the car and sent it rolling down and down into the pitch-blackness of the ravine.

Nothing could ever really be caught and held — and possessed. Sometimes you thought you had a thing — but then part of it — or all of it — always got away. Life itself could not be possessed, really, not even a minute of it. She saw it with sudden clarity; life kept slipping away from you, it kept shifting and changing, like the dancing lights on the false stones, shifting and changing and shoving off into the shadows without you. It was all just a reflection. People were only reflections. She had been led, helplessly, by elements and forces beyond herself. None of it was her fault; it had been forced on her, relentlessly, cruelly. But forced or not, she saw in her fright that she must turn back, or turn in a new direction; she must escape while escape was still possible. Blinking, she stared harder, harder. "Blanche!" Jane cried out suddenly, her voice shrill with both fright and relief. "Oh, Blanche!"

"You are sisters," her father's voice answered her, "the same flesh and blood. And that means that you've always got to stick together, no matter what."

She went to the cupboard and opened the door. Taking out a glass, she filled it with water. And then, looking up to the higher shelves, she found a box of soda crackers and reached them down. Carrying these, she turned and walked upstairs.

For some moments she hesitated on the threshold, aware only in the first instant of the stretch that reached her nostrils from inside. Finally she took a reluctant step forward, found the panel that contained the light switches and turned the nearest of them on.

At the edge of the bed she stopped, staring down at the still, sprawled figure that lay there, at the face upon which the mouth had been obliterated by a wide strip of adhesive tape.

The face of Blanche Hudson, its precise features pinched and somehow diminished, was as quiet and bloodless as a plaster death mask. The eyes remained closed and unmoving in heavily shadowed sockets, and across the left cheek bone, like a sooty smudge upon the waxen whiteness, was a slanting bruise. Her hair a dull gray in this light radiated from the still face and out across the pillow in a matted tangle. Her wrists lashed together with a piece of stout brown twine were tied to the head board of the bed. The bed-clothes twisted around and beneath her like her night-dress gave mute testimony of a vain struggle for freedom.

Jane stared her face impassive. Leaning down close to the still figure on the bed she shied it closely she reached out to the adhesive on the mouth worked it loose at one corner and tore it off.

"Blanche?" Her tone was flat unmarked by any decipherable emotion.

The white withered lips of Blanche Hudson remained still. After a moment Jane moved away looking back toward the bed as if in deep perplexity. Finding a chair she dragged it close to the bed and sat down.

"Blanche?" Jane said. "Blanche wake up!" And then the emotion came as her face contorted with a spasm of terrible doubt. "Blanche!"

The slack folds over the eyes stirred very faintly and struggled to open.

"Blanche! . . . Blanche! . . ."

The eyes flew open suddenly. They looked up with a bright terror that seemed surely to contain all the remaining life in the pathetic body.

Jane motioned with her hand toward the water and crackers. "Your dinner!" Jane said her voice strained and sharp. "There!"

At that the eyes blinked as if with understanding and the white lips beginning to show a faint bruise of color formed some silent word. Then the eyes turned and strained in their sockets to follow the direction Jane had pointed. When they found the glass of water they stopped and the lips moved again. A faint whisper the sound really of an undrawn breath and no more "Water."

Jane's gaze though it had remained fixedly on Blanche was distant and unseeing. "Blanche" she said "It wasn't really my fault. It wasn't . . . I told her to go away . . . I told her she was fired . . . but she came back . . . she sneaked back . . . after I was gone . . . and she said she was going to call the police"

Compromise Okayed on Road Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate Roads and Highways Committee today recommended passage of bills which would effect a compromise on allocation of highway revenues.

The compromise was worked out by Gov. Orval E. Faubus in meetings with representatives of the Arkansas Highway Commission, Arkansas County Judges Association and Arkansas Municipal League.

Bills sponsored by Sen. Robert Hays Williams of Russellville to effect terms of the settlement were introduced Wednesday.

One bill would give an additional $750,000 a year in highway funds to cities. Another would provide that each county be allocated $100,000 — a total of $7.5 million — for work on secondary roads in the next two years.

Previously, bills had been introduced to give cities an estimated $1.8 million more a year in highway turnback and to give counties $1.5 million a year for use on secondary roads.

The committee also recommended passage of a bill by Sen. Rudolph Bates of Mt. Ida to prohibit "auto graveyards" within 1,000 feet of a highway.

Marilyn to Leave the Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe will be out of the hospital in a few days and is looking forward to doing a television show, her press agent said today.

The blonde actress has been reported suffering from emotional upset.

John Springer, the agent, said "Marilyn went into the neurological institute primarily for a rest and checkup and she's expected out in a few days."

"What's more," he said, "she is looking forward to doing 'Rain' for NBC. Rehearsals start by the end of February and she'll tape the spectacular some time in March."

Oaklawn Opens Longest Racing Season Sat.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Oaklawn Park begins the longest racing season in its history Saturday with the star-studded Inaugural Handicap the first day feature.

Twenty-six entries were received Thursday for the $10,000 Inaugural, but the field will be cut to 12 by post time, 1:15 p.m. Saturday. Owners had until 9 a.m. today to withdraw from the 3 1/2-furlong test for 3-year-olds and up.

Between 600 and 700 horses will be at the track on opening day, although all will not be entered in the first day's nine races. More thoroughbreds are expected later.

T.A. Grissom's Eight Again, winner of one section of last year's Arkansas Derby, leads the list of entries for the Inaugural.

Other big names are Lloyd Mistrot's Grand Wizard, a top sprinter at the New Orleans Fairgrounds' current meeting; Earl Wilson's Leadstealer, who won two major races at Oaklawn last year, and John C. Howe's Little Ritz, making his first start since last November, when he competed at Churchill Downs.

The racing season was extended from 31 to 43 days this year and records are expected to be set in both bets and attendance. A record of more than one million dollars will be distributed in purses.

Top-weighted at 120 pounds in the Inaugural field is T.L. Harkins' Benedicto, Little Ritz will carry 119 pounds with Grand Wizard and Gainsworth to carry 118 each.

Lakers Tied With Pistons for Second

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers were tied today with the Detroit Pistons for second place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division and the big reason is Elgin Baylor.

The former Seattle University All-American scored 57 points Thursday night as Los Angeles downed the Pistons at the Detroit Olympia, 129-108. Baylor broke his own Olympia scoring mark of 55 points set two years ago. He holds the one-game NBA scoring record of 71 points set earlier this season.

The Pistons have lost nine of 12 games played against Los Angeles this season, a big item in the battle for second place.

In other games Thursday night the Royals downed the St. Louis Hawks 133-107 at Cincinnati, while in a doubleheader at Syracuse the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Boston Celtics 121-111 and the Nationals beat the New York Knickerbockers 132-120.

Redskins of Utah Score 6th Victory

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Utah Redskins scored their sixth straight victory and widened their Skyline Conference lead to a full game with a 67-62 whipping of Denver University Thursday night.

The test at Denver actually was easier than the final score indicates, since the Utes had a 15-point lead until the closing minutes as they ran their Skyline record to 8-1 compared to 7-2 for idle Colorado State U. Each has four conference games remaining before they have their showdown at Fort Collins, Colo., on March 4. The Utes could be out of reach by then.

Duke's first Atlantic Coast Conference game without suspended ace Art Heyman was a flop. Cincinnati fattened its Missouri Valley Conference lead while extending its winning streak to 13, and fifth-ranked Bradley, Providence, Niagara, and Temple scored key victories in other features of the college program.

Maryland, beaten in its last five games, topped third-ranked Duke to third place in the ACC with a 76-71 upset at College Park, Md. It was Duke's first start since ACC Commissioner Jim Weaver suspended Heyman for three remaining conference games because of his role in a fight during a Feb. 4 game with North Carolina. North Carolina, which has lost Larry Brown and Don Walsh by Weaver's action, now leads the conference at 9-2 with Wake Forest second at 10-3 and Duke at 9-3.

Fourth-ranked Cincinnati beat tough Wichita 67-64 and at 8-2 opened a game lead in the MVC over Bradley, which topped Houston 90-74 in a non-league clash.

Providence (17-4) downed DePaul 81-77 in a duel of National Invitation Tournament teams, and Niagara (13-3) improved its chances for an NIT berth—nipping Seton Hall 78-76 on Ken Whalen's jump shot with 2 seconds left.

Temple, dueling St. Joseph's (Pa.) for the NCAA berth from the Middle Atlantic Conference, pushed its league record to 8-0 with a 70-60 victory over Lehigh.

Final Rites

Norrell credited with getting him started in politics by persuading him to run for the state Senate in 1950.

"He was truly a friend of the little man," McCoy said, "and an attentive listener to the troubles of one and all."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., named these House members to attend the Norrell funeral services here today and at Monticello Monday: Reps. William Mills, R-C. Gathings, Green Harris, James Trimble and Dade Alford, Arkansas Democrats; Mike Keenan, D-Ohio; Ivor D. Fomon, R-Pa.; Joe L. Ewins, D-Tenn.; and Robert Jones, D-Mo.

Arkansas Sens. John L. McClellan and J. W. Fulbright were designated by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to represent the Senate at the services.

Norrell's survivors include his widow and one daughter, Miss Judy Norrell. They have 11 children.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church in Monticello.

The Hope Bobkittens will face the Magnolia Cubs in a battle for Region 4AA Junior Championship tonight in Jones Field House at 8 p.m. Fairview takes on Malvern in the consolation game at 7 p.m.

As a result of their wins last night placing them as the top two Jr. teams in 4AA, both Hope and Magnolia have earned a berth in the state tournament Feb. 22 at Jonesboro. In those semi-finals last night Magnolia took Fairview 32-23, while the Kittens stomped Malvern 41-25.

Although the Kittens started out slow, they led 9-7 after the first quarter. Then 8th grader Jerry Burnett caught fire and by taking 10 of their 14 points in the second period, boosted the Kittens to a 23-11 halftime lead. The starting five outscored Malvern 13-4 in the third period and the second team saw some action.

Jerry Burnett, third ranking 4AA district scorer this season, took 22 points last night. The districts leading scorer, Dan Jones, sank 9, while McLarty took 3, Sprague, Thrash and Caldwell 2 each and Wassell 1.

Magnolia didn't have too much trouble with Fairview and led 7-6, 13-7, 25-15 and 32-23 at the end of each quarter. Christian was high for the victors with 12, Teel sank 8 for Fairview.

The two games tonight should exhibit some top, exciting basketball. When Malvern and Fairview last met, Malvern edged them out 31-29 in OT. In the only Hope-Magnolia meeting this season, the Kittens came from behind to take the Cubs 38-28.

If Coach Wesley Huddleston's Kittens win tonight, they will be the second Kittens team in a row to go undefeated in district play and to win the conference championship. Also, if they win, they will give Hope the second 4AA Jr. Championship out of a possible three, as the Kittens joined 4AA in 1959.

Remember game time is 7 p.m., and the Kittens play at 8 tonight. Come out and Boost the Bobkittens to another championship.

But passing the House were measures to create a Division of Hospitals and Nursing Homes in the State Health Department and to establish a Nursing Homes Advisory Council.

Woodruff County Rep. Jack S. Oaks presented a proposed constitutional amendment to the House that would establish an industrial and hospital district with new taxing powers. Oaks' measure would authorize the General Assembly to set up the districts which in turn could levy taxes up to five mills each for industrial and hospital needs.

The proposal leaves up to the General Assembly the manner in which the districts would be administered.

Action initiated by Sen. Ellis Fagan recalled two bills from the governor's office. The measures are design to equalize the use tax. Fagan said the recall move was made to give Faubus more time to consider them. The governor must act on a bill within five days after receiving it. Fagan pointed out that the governor was ill and that they could be resubmitted after he recovers. Faubus had flu.

While the Senate was passing a measure to increase the maximum load limit on large trucks the House defeated a bill limiting the amount of clearance of the fifth wheel on truck trailers. But it agreed to reconsider the measure Monday.

The fifth wheel is the horizontal disc used to join a tractor and trailer. Some legislators claim some truckers are shifting load weights by using the fifth wheel.

The Senate bill would increase the maximum loads from the present limit of 56,000 pounds, excluding the front axle, to 73,280 pounds. No mention is made of the axle. It passed by a 19-14 vote with 18 votes required.

The governor is expected to present a plan Tuesday at the joint session to replace a proposed $52 million dollar construction bond issue that was withdrawn when its defeat appeared obvious.

However Faubus has declined to give any details of the plan nor would he say whether it would be for a new tax. The withdrawn measure, proposed by the state bridge presidents, would have been financed by a soft drink tax. Among bills signed into law by Faubus were acts to:

Allow municipalities to remove

Lance Expected to Play Baseball

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas' do - everything man, Lance Alworth, is expected to recover from a shoulder operation in time to lend a vital hand to the Razorback baseball team.

But diamond Coach Bill Ferrell still has plenty of personnel problems. He needs a catcher to replace Joe Nosari and some right-handed pitchers.

Ferrell said his biggest problem is replacing Nosair. He'll probably give sophomore Jim McKenzie of Prescott a chance at the receiving chores. Two other rookies, Jerry Wheeler and Delano Cotton, will be depended on for right-handed pitching to supplement six left-handers.

The Razorbacks don't compete in the Southwest Conference baseball race, but they will meet three conference opponents.

Ferrell said Alworth's recovery will be speedy and he should be able to join workouts in about 10 days. The star football halfback divides his spring talents between baseball and track, in which he competes as a sprinter.

Unknowns in Front at Tucson Open

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Lesser known golfers were very much in evidence as the $20,000 Tucson Open headed into today's second round.

Ever hear of Frank Wharton? Probably not, because he's never finished better than seventh in a PGA event. But because the slim Austin, Tex., youngster was raised on the wind-swept courses of West Texas he earned a one stroke lead with a six under par 31-33-64 in Wednesday's opening round.

Other pros moaned that 25 mph per hour winds, with gusts even stronger, ruined their scores. Clouds of dust swirled across the fairways, clogging ears and eyes. This afternoon is supposed to be windy again, but nothing like Thursday.

"This was like home," Wharton said. To prove it he birdied the 16th and 17th holes when the wind was the strongest to clinch his lead.

PGA Champ Jay Hebert momentarily checked the youth movement by grabbing the runner-up spot with a 33-32-65.

Tied with 68s, were:

Bob Shields, a long-hitting club pro from Wichita Falls, Tex.; Tom Talkington, club pro from Ypsilanti, Mich.; Buddy Sullivan, Yuba City, Calif.; Harold Knepe, Aiken, S.C. and Dave Marr last year's winner of the Greenbriar open.

The veteran Marty Furgul was grouped with Thorne Wood, High Point, N.C., and Bob Wagner, San Jose, Calif. at 67.

Bob Goaly, winner at Los Angeles last month; the South African Gary Player, currently the leading money winner; and Jack Fleck carded 68s.
